

You're important to God.
The death of Jesus on the cross to pay for your sins proves His love.
His resurrection guarantees it.

Not one problem you face today has taken God by surprise. Jesus said, "The things that are impossible with men are possible with God" (Luke 18:27). Bring your burdens and cares to the God of the impossible. Here is a prayer to guide you in coming to Him.

"Lord Jesus, I come to You with repentant heart, believing You died on the cross to pay for my sins and rose again. I now trust You as my Savior, my Lord. Thank you for giving me a reason to live. Amen."

If this tract expresses what has happened in your heart, Email me using the Contact Us Form at: www.fishingforsouls.com

You can print this tract free at:
www.fishingforsouls.com

FINDING A

REASON TO LIVE

You're important to God.
The death of Jesus on the cross to pay for your sins proves His love.
His resurrection guarantees it.

Not one problem you face today has taken God by surprise. Jesus said, "The things that are impossible with men are possible with God" (Luke 18:27). Bring your burdens and cares to the God of the impossible. Here is a prayer to guide you in coming to Him.

"Lord Jesus, I come to You with repentant heart, believing You died on the cross to pay for my sins and rose again. I now trust You as my Savior, my Lord. Thank you for giving me a reason to live. Amen."

If this tract expresses what has happened in your heart, Email me using the Contact Us Form at: www.fishingforsouls.com

You can print this tract free at:
www.fishingforsouls.com

FINDING A

REASON TO LIVE

FINDING A REASON TO LIVE

Most of us have hit low points that caused us to wonder if life was worth the effort. Suicide beckoned.

Where can we turn when we've lost the will to live?

Let me tell you about a man who found the answer to that crucial question and lived to tell about it. I had only known Jim and his wife for a few months when I felt an urgent need to go to their home and visit them. They came to my mind as I was returning from ministering in a hospital near where they lived. Suddenly I knew I must see them immediately.

Turning my car around, I headed toward their address, all the time questioning what I was doing. It was the wrong time of day to just drop in. My family would be expecting me to be home on time for dinner. I would be arriving without warning or invitation. Still I couldn't escape the sense of a special need in their lives so I

continued on my mission.

When I arrived at their door, Jim's wife answered my knock and told me through her tears that he was in another room with a gun, intending to take his life. Entering the room in which Jim had chosen to die, I found this troubled husband and father sitting with a loaded rifle across his knees. Without saying a word, I sat down beside him. Then I made the move that saved Jim's life.

Opening my Bible, I began reading aloud, following this with a simple heartfelt prayer for Jim. When I finished praying, the man who had intended to commit suicide laid his gun aside. He had found a reason to live. Jim now realized that God loved him and this made life worth living. Those few Bible verses read to him by a man he barely knew but who had arrived in his hour of need convinced him he was important to God.

FINDING A REASON TO LIVE

Most of us have hit low points that caused us to wonder if life was worth the effort. Suicide beckoned.

Where can we turn when we've lost the will to live?

Let me tell you about a man who found the answer to that crucial question and lived to tell about it. I had only known Jim and his wife for a few months when I felt an urgent need to go to their home and visit them. They came to my mind as I was returning from ministering in a hospital near where they lived. Suddenly I knew I must see them immediately.

Turning my car around, I headed toward their address, all the time questioning what I was doing. It was the wrong time of day to just drop in. My family would be expecting me to be home on time for dinner. I would be arriving without warning or invitation. Still I couldn't escape the sense of a special need in their lives so I

continued on my mission.

When I arrived at their door, Jim's wife answered my knock and told me through her tears that he was in another room with a gun, intending to take his life. Entering the room in which Jim had chosen to die, I found this troubled husband and father sitting with a loaded rifle across his knees. Without saying a word, I sat down beside him. Then I made the move that saved Jim's life.

Opening my Bible, I began reading aloud, following this with a simple heartfelt prayer for Jim. When I finished praying, the man who had intended to commit suicide laid his gun aside. He had found a reason to live. Jim now realized that God loved him and this made life worth living. Those few Bible verses read to him by a man he barely knew but who had arrived in his hour of need convinced him he was important to God.